

FAREHAM LOSE FIRST MATCH

FAREHAM lost their first match of the season in the Hampshire League against Southampton by four games to one. Surprise of the match was the appearance of A. Samuels on top board for Southampton when it had been expected that he would be playing for Southampton University.

His game with J. A. C. Borland was the high spot of the match and an interesting 'post mortem' followed a keenly - contested struggle.

The other interesting game was between N. C. Taylor and Southampton's match captain and County player, A. C. Barton. This was unfinished, but although a lot
